- Burlington Community Support Fund - As part of the City of Burlington's response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the City relaunched its existing community support programs into a streamlined program called the Community Support Fund. This program joined existing programs to provide financial support to residents and community groups who want to enrich and connect the Burlington community through sport, recreation, art and cultural experiences. Read more about it at <https://www.burlington.ca/en/live-and-play/community-support-fund.asp> .
- Music Performance Trust Fund - The Music Performance Trust Fund (MPTF) is funding 100% of both live and streaming performances during the pandemic. It costs the "employer" nothing but a little paperwork. For live performances during COVID, you must upload a letter from the employer and/or venue stating that (1) the performer(s) have the venue's permission to stage a performance, and (2) safety protocols will be followed. Specific questions should be addressed to Brent Malseed at the Hamilton Musicians Guild Local 293. Telephone: 905 525 4040 or Email: local293hmg@bellnet.ca.
- ACCOB Fundraiser – ACCOB is a self reliant arts and culture council, receiving funds through membership and fundraising. For this reason, it is important that you renew your membership annually (2021 was renewed compliments of ACCOB) and tell others about membership. It is also important to attend fundraisers as the funds help us help you. ACCOB hopes to plan some fundraisers and workshops in the future. We would love to hear your ideas and would love for you to be involved either as a participant or as a volunteer! Please contact us at info@artscultureburlington.ca.

2021 has been a strange year for all musicians, and I am looking forward to being able to perform again and to play with my musical colleagues. I continued teaching through the internet and am pleased to report that several advanced students were able to finish music exams online. For all of these kids, my face was one of the only ones apart from family that they saw during the lockdown and I was extremely impressed with how well they progressed. All the families deserve a big thank you for their support, because many had to upgrade technical equipment and become much more experienced in recording. I am looking forward to teaching in person (with masks) this term.

The Burlington Symphony Orchestra, of which I am a member, is hoping to perform again this season at BPAC in a 5-concert series, and we plan to begin in person rehearsals in October, if all things go well. Please get out and support live classical music in the community.

Audience members are asked to come early for socially distanced seating.
Masking is mandatory and proof of vaccination is required.

I am pleased to announce that my Gratitude Project, with funding from the City of Burlington and Port Nelson United Church, will be live on Saturday, October 23, 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, October 24 at 2:30 p.m. at Port Nelson United Church. I applied for funding for this project before the pandemic, but the topic is just what we need at this time. I have selected poems of gratitude: gratitude for family, for nature, for love, for health, for friendship, for life. These poems will be read by Leslie and Christopher Gray from KooGLE Theatre. I and the members of my chamber group, Effusion, have selected music to go with each poem, some of it popular and some of it light classical. The poetry comes from around the world, as does the music. Composer/arranger Philip Corke has arranged some of the music for Effusion. Effusion members are: Jason Hales, tenor, Shiori Kobayashi, clarinet and sax, Stephanie Numan-Scholman, violin/viola and me, Andrea Battista, piano.

Tickets are $15 and there will be limited seating to allow for social distancing. Port Nelson United Church has a new, very fine ventilation system and I am confident that this will be an event that will bring peace to all who attend. We are so happy to be able to perform live again and we hope to see you at The Gratitude Project.

Hey, everyone! Live music is back! I've been relatively busy with some live shows and I've had a lot of other good things happening.

On July 21, 2021 I was named the 2020 inductee to the Burlington Performing Arts Centre Hall of Fame which is pretty exciting. Being inducted into the Burlington Performing Arts Centre Hall of Fame is an unbelievable feeling. I am so grateful for the ongoing support that both BPAC and Burlington have provided to me and my music. I feel completely blessed to be a Burlington artist and am ecstatic that BPAC recognizes my worth as such.

On September 21, 2021 I received the news that the lyrics from my original song 'Broken World' will be included in a public art installation being put together for Culture Days.

"The public art program is commissioning artists and writers to create temporary public art signs that will be installed along The Beachway multi-use path. This outdoor exhibition will provide trail users with a safe and accessible way to enjoy art and to learn more about the amazing creators in the Burlington community. Each artwork will be accompanied with a profile of the artist."

I hope you will take a stroll along The Beachway and view not just my artwork, but that of all the local artists included in this project!

Last but not least, I released my new single 'Stir Crazy' on September 24, 2021 to all streaming platforms and am looking forward to the radio release on October 5, 2021. I hope you will give it a listen as I think you will be able to relate to it but also enjoy the fun beat and catchy lyrics.

I was thrilled to take part in an in-person art show once again.

There were 18 artists at 8 outdoor locations across Burlington in this self-guided tour, which ran September 25 & 26, 2021, 10 AM to 5 PM both days.

This collaborative effort combined Art in Action with the new Burlington Artists Tent Tour. The event was a hybrid between the traditional studio tour and a popup outdoor art show with COVID safety protocols in place. And with our new timing, the event also coincided with the launch of Culture Days, 2021.

You can learn who all the participating artists were at artinaction.ca \(https://artinaction.ca/tenttour/\)

- Burlington Performing Arts Centre's First Installment of its 10th Anniversary Season – Fall Shows on Sale This Week

With a decade of song, dance, comedy and magic, intimate performances, and grand spectacles to celebrate, the Burlington Performing Arts Centre (BPAC) launched its 10th anniversary season with a limited announcement of fall performances to suit everyone's tastes.

Illusion, musical concerts, comedy and more highlight a diverse line-up of the first portion of BPAC's 21/22 Season shows that have been announced, running from October 29 until December 15. As per Ontario guidelines, all patrons must show proof of COVID-19 double vaccination to be permitted entry into the facility. All shows will be hybrid events, performed for a live audience at BPAC and streamed live to patrons at home.

"We are celebrating our 10th anniversary in style, despite the hurdles of reduced capacity! We have an amazing lineup of shows and performers planned for the entire 21/22 Season, which include the fall performances we're now promoting. At a time when we could all use a little music, laughter, or a reason to stand up and cheer, The Burlington Performing Arts Centre is here for you. We are taking every health precaution to ensure that our patrons in the theatre can sit back and enjoy the show in a safe environment. For those who can't join us in person, you can enjoy all the fun from your own home, as our fall performances will all include a livestream option. We can't wait to welcome you back to BPAC," said BPAC Executive Director Tammy Fox.

"I have just finished a sold-out run at the Magic Castle and I am so glad we all get to be together again safely. The delicious laughter and the excitement of a live show I have missed terribly. I think we all could use a little wonder and magic in our lives again. Can't wait to see you."

An evening of sophisticated silliness is on tap with SEÁN CULLEN'S COCKTAIL HOUR \(& A HALF!\).
